The Contenders

Jack Nicklaus was already a legend in the game of golf by 1975. He had won 17 major championships, including five Masters titles. Nicklaus was known for his aggressive style of play and his ability to hit the ball a long way.

Johnny Miller was a rising star in the game of golf in 1975. He had won the U.S. Open the previous year, and he was considered one of the best young players in the world. Miller was known for his accurate iron play and his ability to putt.

Tom Weiskopf was another top player in the game of golf in 1975. He had won the British Open the previous year, and he was considered one of the best all-around players in the world. Weiskopf was known for his powerful driving and his ability to hit the ball high.

The Tournament

The 1975 Masters Tournament was played on the Augusta National Golf Club in Augusta, Georgia. The course was in excellent condition, and the weather was perfect for golf. The tournament was a four-day event, with the final round being played on Sunday, April 13.

Nicklaus, Miller, and Weiskopf were all in contention for the lead throughout the tournament. Nicklaus shot a 68 in the first round, and he followed that up with rounds of 69 and 70. Miller shot a 67 in the first round, and he followed that up with rounds of 70 and 69. Weiskopf shot a 69 in the first round, and he followed that up with rounds of 70 and 68.

The final round was a thrilling affair. Nicklaus, Miller, and Weiskopf all played well, and they were all tied for the lead at the end of regulation. A playoff was necessary to determine the winner.

The Playoff

The playoff was played on the 10th hole at Augusta National. Nicklaus, Miller, and Weiskopf all hit good drives, and they were all left with short irons into the green. Nicklaus hit his approach shot to within 10 feet of the hole, Miller hit his approach shot to within 12 feet of the hole, and Weiskopf hit his approach shot to within 15 feet of the hole.

Nicklaus was the first to putt, and he made his putt for birdie. Miller was next, and he also made his putt for birdie. Weiskopf was the last to putt, and he missed his putt for birdie. This gave Nicklaus the victory in the playoff, and he won the 1975 Masters Tournament.

The Legacy

The 1975 Masters Tournament is still remembered as one of the most dramatic in the history of the sport. The three-way playoff between Nicklaus, Miller, and Weiskopf was one of the most exciting finishes in golf history. Nicklaus' victory was his sixth Masters title, and it cemented his status as one of the greatest golfers of all time.
