A Legacy of Culinary Excellence

Anne Quatrano's culinary journey began at the renowned New York City restaurant Le Cirque, where she honed her skills under the tutelage of legendary chef Daniel Boulud. Upon her return to Atlanta, she opened her first restaurant, Bacchanalia, which quickly established itself as a culinary destination. Driven by her passion for all things sweet, Quatrano launched

The Lady Sons Just Desserts in 1999, a venture that has since become synonymous with exceptional dessert artistry.

A Delectable Symphony of Flavors

The Lady Sons Just Desserts menu is a symphony of flavors that delights and tantalizes at every turn. From the classic Chocolate Chess Pie to the ethereal Blackberry Lemon Cake, each creation is a masterpiece in its own right. Pastry Chef Daniel Jernigan brings his unique touch to the menu, infusing traditional Southern favorites with innovative twists.

Indulge in the velvety smoothness of the Sweet Potato Pie, crafted with warm spices and a hint of ginger. The Buttermilk Cake, a Southern staple, melts in your mouth with its tender crumb and delicate buttercream frosting. For a touch of nostalgia, savor the Pecan Pie, a timeless treasure that evokes memories of family gatherings.

The Art of Sweet Architecture

At The Lady Sons Just Desserts, desserts are not merely sweet treats; they are edible works of art. The talented pastry team transforms humble ingredients into exquisite creations that are visually stunning. Each cake, pastry, and cookie is a masterpiece in its own right, adorned with intricate designs and vibrant colors.
